

Counseling Fee Agreement

Appointments: We are pleased that you have chosen Ebtide Counseling for your counseling. Counseling sessions include the time used for scheduling and payment. When you need to cancel or reschedule an appointment, please give us at least 24 hour notice. Because your therapist has committed that specific time to your session, our policy is to charge the full fee for late cancellations or missed appointments. Insurance does not reimburse for missed appointments.

Ebtide Counseling Fee Policies: Payment is due at the start of each session. If your account becomes two sessions past due, we will not schedule additional appointments until payments are current or an installment plan is arranged.

During the course of your counseling, if you need additional services for extended sessions, phone consultations, reports, correspondence or the copying of records, we will add charges for these services.

By signing this document, you agree to pay all charges for services received. If you use insurance to cover some or all of your counseling at Ebtide Counseling, you agree to pay any amount that your insurance carrier does not pay. This may include, but is not limited to services and charges determined by your insurance carrier not to be medically necessary, and/or services and charges not covered by your insurance plan.
